

Contemporary Cozy

This modern, bench-style sofa from Rolf Benz, part of the brand's Bacio collection that debuted at the Milan Furniture Fair earlier this year, has an extra-deep seat that's just right for snuggling into on frosty nights. Boston Design Center, (617) 227-2021, rolfbenzstudio.com

A Wise Choice

Situated on Deer Isle, Maine, furniture designer Geoffrey Warner's studio may be off the beaten path, but now that we're wise to his handmade owl stools, Warner should expect some extra foot traffic in the near future. Storington, Maine, (207) 367-6555, geoffreywarnerstudio.com

Golden Glow

This midcentury-style, walnut and gold-leaf lamp from Wildwood, appropriately named "Squiggles of Wood," is the epitome of retro-cool. The curved base toys with the idea of positive-negative space. Find it at Home Comfort. Center Harbor, N.H., (603) 253-6660, homecomfortnh.com

Sophisticated Stone

Walker Zanger's latest collection of decorative stone tile, available at Tile Showcase, pays homage to the jet-set culture of the 1960s. Designs are inspired by destinations like Palm Springs and St. Tropez. Boston Design Center and Watertown, Mass., (617) 926-1100, tileshowcase.com

Winter White

Could Effeti USA's new BK ES Tube Hood signal a shift away from traditional kitchen fixtures? If it means we'll see more designs like this sleek, sculptural range hood, carried at Italian Design, then we certainly hope so. Watertown, Mass., (617) 731-4222, italian-design.net

Personal Touch

Alessandra Branca put her mark on the linen damask fabric she created for her new partnership with Schumacher. The graphic pattern features a pomegranate, which is also the logo of her design firm. Schumacher, Boston Design Center, (617) 482-9165, schumacher.com
